News wants charges filed on commission

The Canyon News asked Tuesday that Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod present to the next session of the Randall County Grand Jury a case which could end with criminal misdemeanor charges being filed against Canyon City commissioners, the city manager and city attorney.

Sherrod Tuesday afternoon refused to file charges against the government officials after The News complained that commissioners had violated the Texas Open Meetings Act in calling an allegedly illegal executive session Monday night.

"I won't file charges at this point," Sherrod said. "I don't feel the evidence is sufficient right now. I think the way it should be done is take it to the grand jury and let 12 people look at it. I'll present the case to the grand jury at the request of the Canyon News."

News Editor Carroll Wilson and Reporter Laurie Telfair told Sherrod they believe city commissioners, relying on faulty advice from City Attorney Elton Cox, went into executive session Monday night in violation of Article 6252-17, section 2 (g).

That section holds that "nothing in this act shall be construed to require governmental bodies to hold meetings open to the public in cases involving the appointment, employment, evaluation, reassignment, duties, discipline, or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges against such officer or employee, unless such officer or employee requests a public hearing."

The News contends, Wilson said, that city commissioners, City manager Glen Metcalf and Cox discussed a new salary schedule for city employees during the executive session called Monday night and that the open meetings act does not allow governmental bodies to discuss salary schedules behind closed doors.

"An Attorney General's opinion rendered in 1975 would tend to bolster our contention," Wilson said. "It provides that a school board may meet in closed session to discuss salaries of individual employees but may not meet in closed session when it is considering salaries of a class of employees."

City commissioners went into executive session about 7:45 p.m. Monday and broke up the session about 9:25 p.m., according to Mrs. Telfair.

Exactly what went on during the closed meeting was unclear Tuesday morning.

Commissioner J. Pat Stephens, contacted about 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, told The News commissioners had, in fact, discussed a new salary schedule for city employees as well as salaries of individual employees.

Stephens was complimentary of the schedule which has been prepared by Metcalf.

Commissioner H. R. Fulton Jr., who stayed at the executive session only until about 8:15 p.m., said discussion centered only on individuals.

Commissioner Jim Christopher said commissioners had discussed salaries for several specific employees.

In early afternoon, after News representatives had talked to Sherrod about filing charges against the city commissioners, Stephens called Mrs. Telfair.

He said he had talked to Chief of Police Al Stewart during the morning and was told that "the News was planning on suing us."

Stephens said he had misled Mrs. Telfair earlier in the day when he said the commissioners had discussed the salary schedule proposed by Metcalf.

Monday night's executive session was clouded in secrecy as the News attempted to learn what the reason for the executive session was.

"Several weeks ago — I don't remember the date, but it was either in January or December-Glen Metcalf first mentioned that the commissioners might

An election official began early in the afternoon Tuesday sorting and straightening ballots cast in the Canyon School District bond issue election. More than 3000 persons cast votes in the special balloting. The issue failed by 148 votes.

Reassessment time seen after bond failure

Canyon School Board members, their multi-million dollar bond issue proposal defeated for a second time by voters Tuesday, will reassess their construction options but the formal reassessment may not begin before about mid-March.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said Wednesday morning it will take a few days for him to straighten out his own mind what factors might have led to the overwhelming opposition to the $5.5 million bond issue ballot proposal Tuesday in Canyon precincts.

The next school board meeting is scheduled for March 9.

Voters turned out in record numbers Tuesday to defeat the second bond issue proposal of the Canyon board for construction of a new elementary school and a new junior high school in the north part of the district.

A total of 3014 persons cast ballots at the Canyon community center and at Gene Howe Elementary School. In a similar issue in December, 2407 voters went to the polls with 1041 voting for and 1366 against.

The vote Tuesday was closer, with the issue failing by only 148 votes.

A total of 1581 ballots were counted against the issue while 1433 were cast for.

In Canyon precincts, the vote was two-to-one against the issue, with 717 casting for ballots and 1420 casting against votes. At Gene Howe, 716 persons cast ballots for the issue and 161 voted against.

For the Tuesday election 8874 persons were registered and eligible to vote.

Jacobs said the attitude of Canyon area residents is obviously a key factor in the defeat and the school board will eventually have to try to wrestle with determining the reasons for the overwhelming negative vote in Canyon.

Board members had reassessed their original $6 million proposal, the one defeated in December, following that defeat and granted a $3000 tax exemption to the elderly and altered the bond issue proposal to include construction of a junior high rather than a high school.

Board President Tom Keeling said Tuesday night after reading the election results: "I don't know at this point what the board will do or where we go from here. I'm sure we will want to consider it and weigh it real closely. We have a big problem and it's not going to go away."

District Financial Advisor Bob Davis told The News following the meeting he would recommend the board come back with an immediate election to build new schools.

"The need is there," he said.

Stan Collins, leader of several committees organized to oppose the bond issue, issued a brief statement early Tuesday afternoon before the balloting was completed.

"However it comes out, it's the will and vote of the people, and I won't cry or gloat," he said. "I won't have an immediate post-election statement until the school board makes further plans when I will make a statement on those plans."

More than 100 persons packed the board chambers Tuesday night to hear the final vote tally. Many of them were supporters of the bond issue from the Gene Howe school area.

The vote was the second time in CISD history voters have turned down a bond issue proposal.

Tuesday's ballot proposal called for the expenditure of $5.5 million for a new junior high, and a new elementary school and additions and refurbishing of Canyon High School.

Before setting the election date, board members had discussed four other options to provide new buildings for district students. Other plans called for construction of the elementary school, a larger addition to CHS, construction of a middle school

Boy, girl Eagles go into area play-offs

Canyon boys and girls, both holding district chmpionships, will move a step up the playoff hiarchy with regional games this weekend for the girls scheduled Saturday and next week for the boys.

Eagle boys took undisputed district title Tuesday by beating Levelland 60-47 on the Levelland court.

Girls will play Stephenville Saturday at 7:30 in the Sweetwater High School gym for the regional title and a trip to Austin for the state playoffs, Feb. 26-28.

The schedule for the boys has not yet been firmed up, head coach B.B. Kendrick said. If the Eagles play a bi-district game, they will meet Odessa Ector, winner of the district 2 Triple A title, on Tuesday, probably at the Texan Dome in Levelland.

If the regional winners elect to play a tournament, the Eagles will meet Odessa, Lubbock Dunbar and probably Brownwood, again probably at Levelland, on Feb. 27-28.

The schedule is to be decided this week, Kendrick said.

Kendrick said he hadn't gotten a report on Odessa from his scouts but he knew that they were a quick club with a size similar to Canyon's.

"They are a real quick club and they use their speed with a full court press," he said. "They won't be any bigger than us, I don't think," he said.

Kendrick said that in size and style of playing, Odessa is likely to be similar to Levelland.

The Eagles have already set some records this year. They hold the school record in 3A competition for the longest winning streak; 11 games. They are undefeated in both rounds of district play and they have tied the season win-loss record, winning 18 of the last 19 games.

"We are kinda where we want to be at this point," Kendrick said. "We have the momentum, we're playing well."

The club is as healthy as they will get, he said. Ken Cooper will need knee surgery and is playing on a broken foot. Ricky Cooper, hurt in the Dimmitt game, will not be back at all, he said.

"I have to give these kids all the credit in the world. They take what comes and just go on with it."

Canyon scouts were on hand this week to watch Stephenville defeat San Angelo in the first rung of post-season playoffs.

"They are a good ball club that is used to being in the playoffs," commented girls' coach Bob Schneider. "They play every other year or so."

Stephenville girls are about equally large girls standing about 5-8 or 5-9, said Schneider. Since there were no programs given at the game, he doesn't know the player's names but he sized up their abilities rapidly.

"They have a good post girl," he said. "She's about 5-10 and jumps well. She fouled out in the third quarter and they have ample reserves because players came off the bench and did well.

"Two others do a good job too. Overall, they're a big team."

The girls warmed up with a scrappy game Saturday against Phillips that saw four of the Canyon girls benched on fouls. Lisa Cathy, Kim Howell, Merry Johnson and Robena Johnson all

Board accepts funds to end land trade

Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling's signing Tuesday night of a letter from the Amarillo School Board ended a three-year land de-annexation squabble between the two districts.

By his signature, Keeling accepted for the district $30,000 from Amarillo Developer Glenn O'Dell in payment of future tax revenues which might be expected from O'Dell's Glendale subdivision.

Amarillo Board President Pete Dallas said Tuesday if Keeling signed the proposal Tuesday night the Amarillo board would withdraw its appeal now pending before the Texas Education Commissioner objecting to a mandate from the Randall County Board of School Trustees on Dec. 18.

With the withdrawal of the appeal, the final action is taken on the O'Dell property, a 160-acre tract, which is now a part of the Amarillo district.

Five families in the O'Dell subdivision has petitioned three years ago to have the subdivision detached from the CISD for annexation by AISD.

A series of appeals before the education commissioner proceeded in the three-year period.

Keeling said Tuesday night the $30,000 one-time payment from O'Dell would amount to about $200 per acre, the amount set by the board that Developer Emmett Fuqua of Quien Sabe Investments must pay to gain board approval for de-annexation of his land west of Coulter Road in the north part of the district.

Randall County School trustees had mandated the Amarillo district pay the Canyon district the actual taxes collected

Developer puts up $30,000, but still owes back taxes

The Canyon School District may have gotten $30,000 from Amarillo Developer Glenn C. O'Dell Tuesday night, but it appears they'll have to take him to court to collect $286 in back taxes.

The $30,000 check which school board members accepted Tuesday night is for future taxes anticipated for O'Dell's 160-acre tract of land, a tract which is now a part of the Amarillo School District after three years of litigation. The $286.93 is for taxes O'Dell has not paid on property for the years 1971, 1973 and 1974.

School board members voted Tuesday to authorize their tax attorney to file suit against 99 taxpayers who have been asked to pay their back taxes and have failed to do so.

The list of back taxes totals $6,165.78.

O'Dell, the developer of the Glendale Subdivision in the north part of the CISD, backed a petition from several families in his development three years ago asking that the area be detached from the CISD and annexed by the

More athletic money woes seen

As assistant to West Texas State University President Lloyd Watkins for intercollegiate athletics, Dr. Jack Bullock feels that no ending is in sight to money problems in athletics.

Dr. Bullock, associate professor of mathematics, was named to the post at the January Board of Regents meeting.

In an assistant capacity, Dr. Bullock will review and approve activities of athletics at WTSU. He will maintain his teaching load of nine hours and is not sure of receiving a full salary for the new position.

"Dr. Watkins doesn't have time to look into athletics as much as he would like to," Dr. Bullock explained.

The board outlined no specific duties for Dr. Bullock, he said.

"I would like to get the fairest and best program possible that we can have on the money that is available."

In his position as advisor, Dr. Bullock is working the budget with a total expenditure cost of $616,000. Cuts made during the December regents meeting have been deleted and several coaches and the sports information director have been reinstated in the budget, he explained.

To maintain membership in the Missouri Valley Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, much more than the goal of $125,000 must be raised, Dr. Bullock said.

"We must have a strong campaign to raise this money if the people of the Panhandle want us to continue in the MVC sports program and in the NCAA."

Fund raising has reached the second phase toward the goal of May 1, according to Dr. Bullock, and he plans to ask for the support of all Panhandle people.

Dr. Bullock plans to oversubscribe the goal enough to establish an endowment fund for future years.

"I want the people of the Arts Friends set projects

Items approved in a recent meeting of the West Texas State University Friends of the Fine Arts board of directors include the financing of fine arts scholarships, next year's artists-in-residence and the faculty performance series.

The directors voted to give $8,000 for scholarships for entering freshmen who will be majoring in art, music, speech or theatre, said Dr. John Green, dean of the WTSU School of Fine Arts.

"Any students interested in applying should write to the chairmen of the respective departments for applications for full or partial tuition scholarships," Green said.

The board also approved expenditures of funds to bring an artist-in-residence in the visual arts next fall, and one in theatre for spring, 1977.

The artist-in-residence at WT this spring will be Ross Lee Finney, a composer in the University of Michigan Department of Music. Finney will be on campus April 21 through 23.

The Friends of the Fine Arts reaffirmed their policy of supporting the faculty performance series, which provides presentations and recitals of WT faculty to fine arts organizations in Panhandle communities, Green noted.

"And the Friends of the Fine Arts in planning to hold a reception for its members in conjunction with one of the performances of the musical '1776' in mid-April," Green said.

Ranchers form group for weather fight

About 25 area farmers and ranchers formed the Citizens for Natural Weather Monday night in Tulia, hired attornies, and took action to take to Austin a fight over the use of weather modification in South Plains counties.

Nolon Henson, elected president of the group, said the new association has filed a petition for an adjudicatory hearing to be held either in the Panhandle or in Austin by the Texas Water Development Board on requests by Plains Weather Improvement Association of Hale County and Atmospherics Inc., of Littlefield to carry out weather modification for four years.

The adjudicatory hearing will involve swearing of witnesses, Henson said.

The Citizens of Natural Weather will be represented at the hearing by a Midland law firm which has handled other weather modification litigation in the state.

Henson is a Randall County Hereford rancher.

Other officers of the group are Foster Parker, secretary and Bruce Fields, treasurer.

County personnel policy eyed by commissioners

County Judge Woody Pond handed out a proposed new Randall County Personnel Policy to county commissioners Monday, but they took no action on it.

Pond's proposal is an expansion and more specific explanation of the county's previous policy.

Commissioners agreed to table discussion of the policy until their upcoming Monday meeting.

Other matters which came before the commission for consideration Monday were:

*Approval of a proposal to advertise for bids to pave 2131 yards of dirt at the new county South Amarillo courthouse annex. Cost is estimated to be about $6,000.

*Approval of a proposal to advertise for bids to purchase a power tire changer for the road maintenance department.

*Approval of the high bid of the Amarillo Montessori Academy for purchase of the county's old South Amarillo annex. The academy bid $47,000.

*Naming of Dr. Dudley Moore as county health officer.

*Tabling of a proposal by Commissioner Dee Griffin that the county join the National Association of Counties at a fee of about $600 per year.

*Hearing a report from Commissioner Jim Fletcher concerning a public hearing conducted last week on weather modification in Littlefield.

Parking limits approved near WT

By LAURIE TELFAIR

Parking limits that the city attorney warned might become an administrative nightmare were approved as a trial Monday night by city commissioners.

The board voted, with opposition from J. Pat Stephens, to limit parking between 23rd and 24th Streets on the south side of 4th Avenue to one hour between 9-11:30 a.m. on weekdays.

This is a compromise of the merchants original request to restrict parking there to 30 minutes from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Before the commissioners voted, City Attorney Elton Cox warned that prosecution of the ordinance could be costly and time consuming.

"We're going to issue maybe 300 parking tickets there a month and then it will probably slow down," he said. "If even a small portion plead not guilty, you're going to be paying a prosecutor, a judge and about 30 jurors about once a month."

"It's a criminal offense to violate a city ordinance and they have to be prosecuted like criminals," Cox continued. "You have to prosecute or you may as well not have the ordinance."

The parking limit, which was backed by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, is to be reviewed after six months and the ordinance was limited to a year's trial.

Before submitting the motion, Jim Christopher said he supported the move with the reservation that if the limit incurs unmanageable problems, that the board then "take another hard look" at the ordinance.

A fine for violation was not set at the meeting but, according to Police Chief Al Stewart, the minimum parking fine in the city now is $5.

The commissioners also watched an 11-minute color film prepared by the Canyon Board of City Development to promote Canyon.

"When we show them this film," said Raymond Raillard, referring to industrial hunting activity, "we're going to be able to sell them on Canyon or they can't be sold."

For the first time, under a recent state law, city elections will be moved from the first Tuesday in April to the first Saturday. The board officially approved the election date and appointed as election judge Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt and as alternate, Mrs. Gene McGlasson.

After routine approval of a resolution to cross Santa Fe tracks with a sewer line, formal passage of an ordinance setting the new utility rates and okay of the Sunday date for open house at the civic center, the board announced an executive session to discuss salary raises for city employees.

Students host kids' party

Valentine sugar cookies and candy hearts were given to youngsters at the High Plains Children's Home in Amarillo at a Valentine's party given by CHS members of the Office Education Association last week.

Seventeen CHS club members entertained the children with pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey and a food game in which teams were chosen and players had to reach into a bag, bring out what was grabbed first and eat it. Objects included lemons, limes, grapefruit and many other edibles.

The party was one of OEA's community projects this year.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH • DISCIPLES OF CHRIST •

When you've said from the beginning that Christian unity is the star on which you fix your course, the ecumenical way becomes second nature. Disciples of Christ are part of the National and World Councils of Churches and Consultation on Church Union, as well as numerous interdenominational special project groups.

Since its origin on the American frontier in the early 1800's, the Christian Church has attempted to increase respect, understanding, and brotherhood among Christian believers of all denominations. Attempting to hold true to the teachings of Jesus and the practices of the New Testament Churches, it strives for a Christian faith which is both socially relevant to the era in which we live and intellectually sound.

We believe that the church is universal as well as congregational, ecumenical as well as local. We participate in and encourage interdenominational fellowship of Christians in worship, study, mission, and service.

Joint discussion on 'sharing' today

Representatives of four governmental bodies in Potter and Randall Counties will come together at noon today in Amarillo for another joint meeting to discuss the sharing of costs for shared services.

The meeting is scheduled at the Holiday Inn on Interstate 40.

Amarillo City Manager John Stiff said the only item on the agenda will be a report from Amarillo Commissioner Keith Taylor on the cost savings which might be involved in sharing services by the governmental entities.

Apparently discussion of the possibility of constructing a jail facility for at least a portion of the two-county area will be delayed until a later date.

each year for five years on the 160-acre property. The Amarillo board appealed that ruling to the education commissioner, contending it was an arbitrary and capricious action.

The settlement agreed to Tuesday night by the Canyon board and Monday night by the Amarillo board must be approved now by the county boards of Randall and Potter counties.

They did not consider a so-called Wieck plan, presented by Board Member Ed Wieck, and calling for a bond issue election to construct only a new elementary school while instituting negotiations to de-annex lands west of Coulter Road in the north part of the district to Amarillo.

In other business Tuesday night, the board approved a May trip for the CHS band to Six Flags Over Georgia to participate in a national contest. The bulk of the $11,000 estimated cost for the trip will be paid by band parents' activities and students themselves. The district pays $2000 for the trip.

The board reappointed Earl Marrs, Larry Hooper and Fred Begert to the district board of equalization. Bill Davis and Bill Patke will be alternates.

The board also rehired school principals, assistant principals, and counsellors.

In executive session, the board discussed the rehiring of professional employees for next year.

They also approved the suspension of a student at CHS until March 1.

want to go into executive session to discuss the new salary plan," Mrs. Telfair said. "I protested and told him that I did not think they could do that under the open meeting law. Metcalf said it was a legitimate use of the personnel section. We discussed it at some length with me saying that if the commissioners did invoke an executive session to discuss the salaries, I would protest."

Mrs. Telfair said about a week later, she again asked Metcalf if the commissioners intended to discuss salaries in a closed session.

"At that time, Metcalf said that the executive session would not be held," she said. "I pressed him further, asking if it was still under consideration. He said 'no.'"

Then, Friday, she said, she discovered on the agenda for Monday night's session that an executive session was planned and asked Metcalf to what it would pertain.

Mrs. Telfair quoted Metcalf as saying "I'm not at liberty to say. It is an executive session to discuss personnel."

"I explained that in the past, executive sessions had been explained somewhat in the agenda — like to consider appointments to city boards and that this, with no explanation, was a departure from the usual custom," Mrs. Telfair said. "He hesitated and said 'well, this is not that kind of executive session.'"

"I called him a few minutes later and questioned him again about the closed meeting. 'All I can say is that it is an executive session to discuss personnel,' he said. 'They could even be discussing me.'

"I asked if salaries would be discussed. He said, 'They might be. Salaries are part of personnel decisions.'

"I asked if the discussion met the requirements for a closed meeting under the law. Metcalf answered 'All I can say is that according to the city attorney, the executive session is a legal meeting to discuss personnel.'"

Mrs. Telfair said that during Monday night's meeting, Mayor Manly Bryan announced the commission would go into executive session.

"I asked if they were going to hold a blanket discussion of salaries," she said. "He said 'yes'."

"Turning to Cox, I said, 'Mr. Attorney, can they do that?'"

Cox's answer, according to Mrs. Telfair: "Oh sure. It comes under personnel."

"Oh, yes," she quotes Cox as saying, "they can discuss anything they want as long as they don't take any action. It used not to be legal, but it is now."

Sales tax checks due

Checks from the state for Canyon and Randall County are in the mail, State Comptroller Bob Bullock reported.

Sales tax collections for the city for January will amount to $4,320.09.

The remittance from the tax on mixed drinks returned to Randall County for the fourth quarter, Oct.-Dec., will amount to $2,372.77. The state returns to cities and counties 15 per cent of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold there.

fouled out.

The Eagles were down by 14 points at one time in the first quarter but inched to within two points of the lead by the close of the period. They moved into the lead in the second quarter and were never behind again, although the Phillips girls tied the game at 37 each later in the night.

"We didn't play real well at all," commented Schneider. "The guards had trouble getting the ball down the court and we had too many fouls and too many turnovers."

But Schneider said that he was extremely pleased that the Eagles were able to come from behind and play with the pressure.

Robena Johnson was high point with 29 but she was well supported with 22 points by Louise Davis, 19 points from Becky Williams and 14 from Deede Johnson.

Guard Marci Davis had an outstanding night, Schneider said, as did Merry Johnson.

The boys took an easy victory Tuesday over Levelland.

"We were ahead all the way," said Kendrick. "Defensively, we played one of our better games all year. Levelland is a high scoring ball club and to hold them to 47 points in their own gym is very good."

About midway through the fourth quarter, Levelland drew within two points of the Eagles, 43-41 but then Canyon scored 17 straight points before Levelland scored again. With a minute left, Levelland added five more points to their total but the Eagles were well ahead.

John Johnson led the scoring with 24 and seven rebounds and Hoss Ratliff also had 18 points and seven rebounds. Mark Nelson added seven assists.

The JVs won their 23rd game in a row, 68-48, to end the season with a 26-3 record.

Mark Sullivan led the scoring with 13, backed by Guy Pitt and Randy Sluder with 12 and Allen Rozell with 10.

Money. . .

Panhandle to understand that this program of contributions must go on this year and next year and the year after that," he said. "I just don't see any light to the end of the money problems in athletics."

He explained that the athletic department is independent of the state legislature and receives no money from the legislature.

Dr. Bullock explained that the NCAA is trying to cut down on costs, but inflation continues to cause increases.

"We'll always have a problem with money, but we must have a balanced budget. We need those contributions."

It's a virtual impossibility — but many folks would approve another hour on their busy schedules.

Shooting victim charged with phony prescription

A Canyon teenager who was hospitalized three times with gunshot wounds suffered in a shooting that occurred here during the Christmas holidays was arrested Friday and charged with possession of a forged prescription.

Douglas Craig Johnson, arraigned before Judge Woody Pond on Monday, was released on a $500 personal recognizance bond on the forgery charge and also on a motion filed by the district attorney to revoke Johnson's probation. The youth is currently on probation for a misdemeanor driving while intoxicated conviction.

Johnson was arrested Friday by Randall County deputies in connection with a forged prescription discovered by pharmacist Riley Troth at Ideal Drug Store. The charge is a misdemeanor.

Canyon Mother-in-law Club will be meeting this afternoon, Feb. 19, at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Fred Marshall for a party and exchange of valentines.

THE TOP 3 CORN HYBRIDS

FOR THE OKLAHOMA-TEXAS PANHANDLE

Everyone knows the top corn hybrid for this area. PIONEER® brand 3369A is the most planted hybrid in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Not everyone realizes, however, that there are other PIONEER hybrids that do as well as this famous one . . . even beat it in some respects. You should consider them, too. They'll help you get exactly the right hybrid mix for whatever mother nature has in store for this season:

PIONEER® BRAND 3369A

This hybrid is grown on more acres of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico corn land than any other variety. It has set yield records year after year. 3369A has excellent seedling vigor, good roots, stalks and ear retention and excellent tolerance to blight, plus it dries fast and shells easily.

New PIONEER® BRAND 3321

An exciting new hybrid that has an even greater yield potential than 3369A. The added yield potential comes, in part, from a little later maturity while having the root and stalk strength to stand until harvest. It stays green later, too. This one can add significant profit to your corn crop.

New PIONEER® BRAND 3780

Another new, good yielding hybrid. It's a little earlier than 3369A with exceptionally fast dry down. It has made from $9 to $12 more profit per acre than ordinary hybrids because of its fast dry down. It has long slender ears on small, hard cobs . . . really great for combining.

"Hello Dolly" opens at CHS tonight

Not justice, but mercy is what Horace Vandergelder, played by Allen Shankles, seeks as Greg Taylor, portraying Rudolph, accuses him before the Judge, played by Craig Howard.

Plotting the course of young love are Rick Mantooth as Barnaby, Royal Brantley as Cornelius, Leslie Gallemore as Dolly, Christi Corley as Ermengarde and Tim Martin as Ambrose.

Fashionable ladies will be wearing cherries and feathers on their hats this season, explains Laurie Davidchik as Minnie Fay to (from left) Susan Shenk, Kelly Ingram, Janie Dickerson, Linda Ramaekers, Marcia Ferguson, Vivian Gill, Lori Slack, Tammy Barnett, Julie Mantooth and Brenda Wilson.

"Hello Dolly" opens this evening with three performances scheduled on the stage at Canyon High School.

Performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. this evening through Saturday with admissions being $2 for students, $2.50 for adult general admission and $3 for reserved seating.

Leslie Gallemore, a CHS senior, is cast as the meddling matchmaker, Miss Gallemore, with Allen Shankles as Horace Vandergelder, the target of Dolly's efforts.

The all-school spring musical will have orchestra background provided by Pattie Guy, flute; Laneta Davis, clarinet; Judi Williams, bass clarinet; Howard Drake, tenor saxophone; Rosalie Galloway and Joel McKinney, coronets; David Green and Terry Floyd, trombones; Mike Johnson, string bass; Joan White, piano and David Smith, percussion. String accompaniment will be provided by members from the Amarillo Symphony and the orchestra is being conducted by Doug McCause, choir director for Canyon High School.

Dancers include Roma Johnson, Eloise Thompson, Carrie Gregg, Doris Brazil, Debbie Moreland, Becky Jo Lindsey, Gayla Bechtol, Kim Landrum, Brenda Glenn, Leslie Isaacs, Randy Langen, Scott Nelson, Stephen Childs, Jonathan Hull, Ricky Cooper, Robert Byrd, Greg Taylor, Jerry Paul Allen, Jay Huey, David Coronado and Greg Johnson.

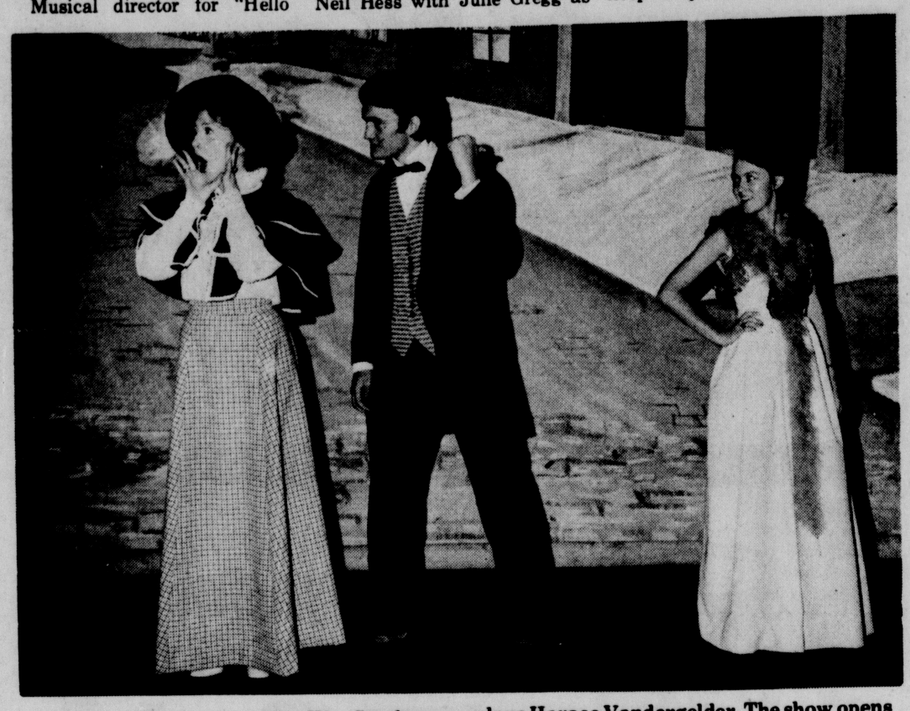
Members of the chorus are Debbie Jeter, Vanessa Cotton, Lori Slack, Becky Nagunst, Cindy Brasher, Laura Dilliard, Beckie Anderson, Teri Morrison, Linda Ramaekers, Susan Shenk, Karen Sommer, Richard Janelle, Bo Fowlkes, Roger Scott, Kenny Stull, Davy Campfield, Jerry Cline, Brad Johnson, Edythe McCurry, Kaylene Roby, Denna Campbell, and Sherri McGregor.

Also in the chorus are Vivian Gill, Jill Burton, Cindy Wilson, Sue Carleton, Dian Bonifield, Barbara Huker, Becky Merriman, Tamara Brown, Kim Bagley, Janie Dickerson, Marcia Ferguson, Kelly Ingram, Denise Bonifield, Kathy Mardis, Julie Mantooth and Brenda Taylor.

Bob Lindsey serves as stage manager while key production positions are filled by Susie, assistant to the stage director; Debbie Jeter, assistant to the music director; Tammy Barnett, assistant to the art director; Craig Howard, publicity; Make-up, Sara Hard; Lighting, Terry Hayhurst; Property, Debbie Mitchusson.

Musical director for "Hello Dolly" is Doug McCause. Neva Chowning is technical and stage director and Charlotte Brantley is designer and art director.

The show is choreographed by Neil Hess with Julie Gregg as dancing coach. Lee Kendle and Fred Mays serve as vocal coaches and J.W. King is in charge of orchestra preparation. Carroll Killingsworth headed hospitality and ticket sales.



Ernestina Money, played by Kim Steelman, is the bait for one of Dolly's schemes. Leslie Gallemore is Dolly while Allen Shankles plays Horace Vandergelder. The show opens tonight with tickets available at the door.

THOSE HAPPY COWBOYS really did win the district championship when they beat Sudan last week.

They will have some "practice" games in the next few weeks and then will play for Bi-District on Tuesday, March 2nd.

HAPPY COWBELLES MET last Wednesday morning in the new meats lab on the WTSU campus. Present were LaNelle Todd, Pat Hargrave, Myra Nell Culp, Judy Thompson, Jeanne Johnson, Mary Johnson and myself.

Ted Montgomery was our instructor for the morning. He handed us a sheet on marbling of meat, the first I'd seen.

The beef grading charts have been explained to me many, many times, but now they finally make sense.

Ted answered all our questions, and then cut up a side of beef for us. Everyone should see that demonstration at least once.

John Childs of the First National Bank joined us for a while on Wednesday morning. We were most pleased.

Another demonstration of cutting and boning a side of beef has been offered to us if we are interested. And I am interested! Maybe by then I'll have my voice back.

Thank you, Dr. Montgomery!

PEOPLE ARE SOMETIMES taught to avoid four-letter words, but it seems there are several they should adopt and use frequently, such as: read, help, give, work, lead, grow, walk, lift, talk, sing, join, feel, hope, pray and love — but the greatest of these is love.

Love for one's country, love for one's neighbor, love for one's family, love for one's God and love for one's self.

Just what could be more important than love?

DON'T MAKE POISONING EASY!

Kids are inquisitive, there is no getting away from the fact. Before you can bat an eyelash, they are into this or that. Most of the time it is harmless and great fun to watch them explore their newly found world.

Keep it fun by not making it easy for children to find their way into situations that can be harmful. Medicine cabinets are a good example. Keep medicines locked up if possible or at least high enough up so that children cannot reach them. And, we will be glad to help you to properly dispose of any old medicines.

Spelling eliminations next week

By KAROLYN FARMER

EVEN IF YOU can't spell "putsch" or "pyrrhic" — (I can't even pronounce them) — you'll enjoy watching the Gene Howe boys and girls compete in the annual Spelling Bee.

Next Tuesday, February 24th, at 1:30 P.M., representatives from each class in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades will take part in the Spelling Bee.

The top seven spellers from Gene Howe will then go on to the County Spelling Bee at CJHS on March 10th.

Von Dean McGregor will be the official "word pronouncer" and three Gene Howe teachers will serve as judges for the event.

Everyone is invited to attend the "Bee," which will be held in the school cafeteria.

EVERYONE IS ALSO invited to the next Gene Howe PTA Meeting on Monday, March 1st. The meeting will begin at 7:00.

The program will be presented by the Gene Howe 3rd Graders, under the direction of Margie Phillips. Assisting Margie with the production are 3rd Grade teachers, Johnnie Gordon, Jerrie Langen and Gerry Woodward.

TROYCE MULHERIN ANNOUNCES the completion (almost) of her home art studio. The studio, formerly the back porch of the Mulherin home, will be the site for classes in decorative painting.

Troyce, as we all know, is quite an accomplished artist in many fields of arts and crafts. Her decorative painting classes will involve working with oils, on both wood and metal.

Patterns will be furnished by Troyce, or the students are welcomed to bring their own patterns and designs.

Troyce states that her classes will begin working with a limited pallet, which they will add to as their "confidence" grows. Troyce also says that anyone — absolutely anyone — will not only enjoy decorative painting, but will find themselves creating many pretty things to keep or give away as gifts.

Call Troyce at 352-6053 or 355-7722 for further details, such as class dates, hours, supplies needed, etc. Her home address is 8105 Santa Fe Trail, which is just a short distance north of Gene Howe School.

DANNY AND ANN Oswald, Dean and Dana, enjoyed a visit this past weekend from Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Harvey, Jr., of Apache, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harvey and their daughter, Amy, were also visiting in the Oswald home. Jack is Ann's brother, and they are also from Apache.

Mr. R.E. Harvey is assistant manager of the Co-op Gin in Apache. Besides attending the Amarillo Hardware Show, the Harveys also enjoyed watching Dean play in a basketball game on Saturday.

THE 6TH GRADE Boys suffered their first defeat in their basketball game last Saturday, losing to St. Joseph's by only two points.

The boys will compete in a Kid's Inc. tournament beginning this Friday.

RICHARD AND ALICE Chittenden, James, Debbie and Ricky, recently moved to the Gene Howe area from Eden, N.Y., which is near Buffalo.

Richard was employed by Western Electric in New York State and was transferred to a local position with Southwestern Bell.

The Chittendens, along with five other families, made the move to Texas in January. Both Richard and Alice are natives of New York, but are already enjoying being Texans.

The Chittenden family now lives on South Western, and they especially like the roominess of "country living," particularly since their favorite hobby is riding motorcycles.

James is 11 and is in Mrs. Parson's 6th grade class. Debbie, who is 9 years old, is in Mrs. McGill's 4th grade class. Eight year old Ricky is in Mrs. Langen's 3rd grade class at Gene Howe.

HARRIS AND SHARON Storlie, Gene, Kim, Donna and Glenn, have completed the long-awaited move into their new home. The Storlies have occupied the building located on the back of their lot for the past six and a half years. That building will now be used as their garage.

They began the construction of their home four and a half hears ago, and have done the major part of the building themselves. Harris drew his own house plans and literally started from "scratch,"

Sharon says her husband learned several new crafts in the process, including laying the marble for their fireplace. Harris is self-employed, with a variety of endeavors.

Among his outstanding accomplishments is the building of three "tow" trucks, also completely from "scratch."

Several parts of the Storlie's home have an interesting history. Their cabinets and woodwork are made from wood which was once in the Dunn Estate home in north Amarillo. The Dunn Estate, located across the street from the Amarillo Country Club, was cleared for the building of a condominium complex.

The Storlies also purchased a "barbecue house" from the estate, dismantled it and have rebuilt it adjacent their own patio.

Sharon says she and her family are grateful both to God and their lovely neighbors for their help and support over the past several years.

Herman and Verna Storlie, Harris' parents, were the first visitors in the new home. Mr. and Mrs. Storlie drove from their home in Farmington, Minnesota in January.

After spending several weeks in Amarillo, the senior Storlies then flew to Buena Park, Calif. to visit another son. They will return to Amarillo for a few days before going back to Minnesota.

SHEILA AND JOHN Hicks competed this last weekend in the Maverick Aquatic Club Swim Meet. Thirteen clubs from Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas participated in the annual Valentine's Day event.

John swam one leg in each of two relays, the 200 medley and the 200 free relay. His team placed second in those races. He also swam in several races in the Boy's 10 and under "B" division.

John placed fifth in the 50 back, sixth in the 50 free and sixth in the 100 free.

Sheila swam one leg in two relays, the 400 medley and the 400 free, and her team placed third. Swimming in the 13-14 Girls "B" Events, Sheila placed first in the 100 breast stroke and sixth in the 100 butterfly races.

Sheila and John are the children of Phyllis and Johnny Hicks.

TANYA BROWN IS nursing an "almost broken" finger after a skating accident last Friday. As Tanya describes it, her finger "got skated on" while she was trying to recover from a fall on the rink.

Tanya is the daughter of Jack and Carolyn Brown.

SCOTT BIDDY IS a real "hero" following a strange series of events last Saturday. Scott, the son of Sam and Carol Biddy, was helping a friend deliver Valentine flowers for a local nursery when he discovered that the house he was delivering to was on fire.

Scott assisted in rescuing two small children from the burning house.

JERRIE LANGEN'S THIRD graders are especially busy these days. Besides preparing for the Third Grade Play to be given at the PTA meeting on March 1, the children still have to keep up with their "everyday" studies.

When I visited their class this week, the boys and girls were studying a science unit on physical and chemical changes in matter. Glin Moore and Laura Webb were the "scientists" for the day and performed an experiment in the rusting properties of steel wool. Jay Knight was assigned the duty of checking the progress of the steel wool each day.

Following the class discussion, the boys and girls were tested on the subject. One of the questions was whether sugar dissolved in water was a physical or a chemical change. (Do you know?) If that one stumps you, just ask one of Jerrie Langen's students.

One of the bulletin boards in the class featured a cute octopus holding cards with multiplication problems on them. The caption on the board was "Numbers Can Be Fun!"

The bulletin board was a project of Brenda Lawless as part of one of her Education courses at WT. Along with her observation of Mrs. Langen's class, Brenda is gaining some practical experience in teaching math to the children.

Another bulletin board features a big tortoise with the words, "Who's Going to Win the Reading Race?" Jerrie Langen explained to me that, as part of her guided reading program, she and several mothers read sixty books at the beginning of this year.

Questions about each book were placed on index cards. As each child completes a book and the corresponding questions, an "x" is placed beside his name. The winner in each reading group at the end of the year will receive a special prize.

Jodie Molone was the most recent birthday celebrant in the class. She was nine years old on February 1st.

DAVID BAVOUSETT HAD a very special item for "Show and Tell" this week in Mrs. Pat Stevens' second grade class. David, the son of Pat and Steve Bavousett, received a new puppy as a Valentine's gift, and couldn't wait to show it to his classmates.

Fat brought the eight-week-old Pekapoo (I hope that's spelled right) to school on Monday. While letting his friends hold his new puppy, David told them that the puppy was named Bitsy. He said he chose that name because she was "itsy-bitsy."

MRS. FRED (HOLLY) Cespedes is "traveling" with the use of crutches following recent leg surgery. Holly spent several days last week in Northwest Texas Hospital and will have to use the crutches for several more weeks.

Meanwhile husband Fred, along with children Dorothy, John and Brian, are "helping" mother with the housework.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 113 enjoyed an afternoon of pizza making and eating last Thursday at Shakey's in Amarillo. The girls were taken on a complete tour of the kitchen and were told where the different spices and ingredients originate from.

After watching a pizza-making demonstration, each Girl Scout was allowed to fix her own pizza, using any and all the ingredients she chose. The scout troop then ate their own concoctions, with drinks also furnished by Shakey's.

Besides the scout troop, made up of 18 fifth grade girls, the others who enjoyed the pizza were Senior Scouts, Clair Davis and Sherry Manning; Troop Leader, Margaret Davis; Assistant Leader, Mary Wilcox; Sharon Camouse and Verna Davis.

THE GIRL SCOUTS of Gene Howe School held their Family Banquet last Friday night in the school cafeteria. Attending the banquet were the three Girl Scout Troops, along with their families.

Troop 103, made up of second grade girls, is led by Betty Coleman, assisted by Jimmie Smith.

Sharon Camouse is the leader of the third grade girls of Troop 237. Her assistant is Regina Pender.

Troop 113 is made up of fifth grade girls and is led by Margaret Davis. Mary Wilcox is the assistant leader.

About 80 people were in attendance for the covered dish meal. The program was presented by the local Girl Scouts.

A special award was presented to Mr. C.E. Christy. Mr. Christy, the owner of Christy Realty Company, is Betty Coleman's employer. The plaque was given as a "Thank you" for allowing Betty some extra "time off" for Scouting functions.

MARK LAWLESS, SENIOR political science major at Baylor University, has been named to head the college division of President Ford's primary campaign in Texas.

Mark is past president of Baylor GOP. He has earned three varsity track letters and was named on the dean's distinguished list for superior achievement. He plans to attend Baylor Law School next fall.

Craig Lawless, a senior student at Canyon High School, has been named as regional high school coordinator for the Young Texans for Ford campaign.

Even though the boys' father, Luther Lawless, might modestly disagree, it's pretty obvious to us where the sons got their "political" abilities.

KIM HOWARD AND Denise Tennison were the double honorees at a birthday party last Saturday. Both of the girls, who are sixth graders at Gene Howe, celebrated their 12th birthdays on Sunday, February 15th.

Kim and Denise, along with lots of their friends, enjoyed an afternoon of roller skating.

Carolyn and R.W. Howard are Kim's parents. Denise's parents are Loydell and Delbert Tennison.

"HELLO DOLLY" PROMISES to be the event and the hit of the season at CHS, and it's something you won't want to miss. The play, presented by the students at CHS, will be presented this Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the high school auditorium.

We hear, from the weary mothers who made them, that the costumes are elaborate and beautiful. A lot of work has gone into making the staging and scenery special, too.

Be sure to support our talented youngsters (and their hard-working teachers) by attending the musical production.

Janie Loudder elected president of city club

Heritage Woman's Club elected new officers at their regular meeting Monday evening, Feb. 16, with Mrs. George (Janie) Loudder being named as president.

Other officers elected during the evening were Mary Starzecki, first vice president in charge of program; Joanna Flack, second vice president in charge of membership; Darlene Plank, records chairman; Donna Cavrich, treasurer; Susan Barnett, parliamentarian; Darlene Hollabaugh, yearbooks chairman; Marion Marrs, projects chairman; and Kathy Rhodes, club sponsor to Les Amies Juniorette Club.

The new slate of officers will be installed later this spring at a casserole-salad fete with the members' husbands as guests that evening.

Meeting at 5303 Pico St., Amarillo, in the home of Marion Marrs, the club entertained as guests Mesdames Wes Cornett, Lee Hicks, Henry Holdman, Gary Conner, Wilford Taylor, Weldon Prichard, Steve McCullough, Jack Dodson and Dale Hamby.

The guests were introduced to federated club work with a discussion on federation structure by Johnnie Gordon and a visual aids presentation on departmental structure of club work by Janie Loudder.

Conducted by Darlene Plank, president, the regular meeting included a collection led by Marla Blake, a roll call led by Johnnie Gordon, reading of the minutes, and an appreciation letter to the club from Westview Boys Home. The club had earlier sent a selection of coupons to the home which were used for purchase of winter clothing for students there.

The education department's "speak-out" urged members to cast their votes in the school bond election on Tuesday. Booklets on metric measurements and shopper guides were presented to the membership. A report was given on reply letters to the club following their recent request that manufacturers discontinue use of pressurized spray cans in favor of other packaging methods.

In keeping with their roll call on "crafts," the program for the evening was presented by Mildred Willingham of Merribee Needlecraft who discussed the basket weave needlepoint stitch. Samples were distributed to the membership for practice of the stitch during the meeting.

Displayed at the meeting were a variety of member crafts including collections of thimbles, quilts, jewelry, macrame and painting along with needlework projects including homesewn clothing, crewel and hooked embroidery pieces.

Hostesses for the meeting were Marion Marrs and Darlene Plank.

Janie Loudder, left, accepts the presidential gavel for the Heritage Woman's Club from the outgoing president, Darlene Plank, after club elections held Monday evening.

Mildred Willingham of Merribee Needlecraft was presented with an appreciation scroll by Marion Marrs, right.

Homemaker recognition earned by CHS senior

Janet Malzahn has been named as the 1976 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow for Canyon High School after receiving the highest score on a written knowledge and attitude examination administered to seniors recently.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Malzahn of 1700 Hillcrest, Janet is a senior at Canyon High School and plans to further her education at an undetermined university following high school graduation.

From the school winners across the state, a State Family Leader of Tomorrow will be selected through judging centered on test performance and the state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship. The state winner's school will also be presented with "The Annals of America," a 20-volume reference work from Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second place student in the state event will receive a $500 scholarship.

In April, winning representatives from each state and the District of Columbia will be taking an expense paid educational tour of Washington, D.C. Personal observations and interviews will be conducted during the national meeting to select the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow who will be presented with a $5,000 scholarship.

At the national meeting other scholarships in the amounts of $4000, $3000 and $2000 will be awarded respectively for second, third and fourth place winners. The tests, personal observations and interviews are all prepared and conducted by the Science Research Associates of Chicago.

Active in all phases of the high school curriculum, Miss Malzahn is a member of the FTA (Future Teachers of America), the Business Club, Chess Club, the National Honor Society and Thespians drama group.
